Reading

- Capricorn was rising at your birth, which makes Saturn the ruler of your chart and sets the tone everything else is read against. An earth sign of the movable kind, it gives a temperament that is disciplined, realistic and prepared to wait — a climber who measures progress in decades.
- Your life moves in initiatives. You begin things readily, and the difficulty is finishing rather than starting.
- Saturn, your chart ruler, sits in the 12th house in Sagittarius. That places the centre of gravity of your life invested in what is out of sight: foreign places, seclusion, research, or the inner life. Ordinary visible achievement satisfies you less than it should.
- Its condition there is workable: in Sagittarius it acts effectively but takes its colour from its surroundings. The ruler of your self is neither reinforced nor obstructed; what it does depends heavily on the company it keeps and on the period running.
- You also have Rahu in the first house itself, sitting directly on the personality. Rahu adds ambition, an unconventional presence and an appetite for what is out of reach.
- Looking at what falls on the ascendant from elsewhere: Jupiter aspects the lagna, which protects it — you are given the benefit of the doubt more often than you notice; Ketu aspects it, which hardens it — there is pressure on the self from outside, and it has made you more capable than a comfortable chart would have.

Physique

Nakshatra	Dhanishta

Notes

- The earth quality of Capricorn rising tends toward a solid, well-set build that holds condition and tires slowly.
- The ascendant rises in Dhanishta, which refines the general picture — the finer features of manner and appearance follow that nakshatra rather than the sign.

Strengths

- The Capricorn signature itself is the asset here: the temperament is consistent, and consistency compounds over a life even where no single placement stands out.

Challenges

- Rahu in the first house — adds ambition, an unconventional presence and an appetite for what is out of reach, which others read more sharply than you intend it.

Basis

Monthly readings are computed as gochar from your Moon in Virgo, which is the classical basis for month-scale prediction, and cross-read against your Capricorn ascendant. The running Vimshottari period supplies the backdrop; the Sun's monthly ingress and the slow-planet transits supply what changes from month to month.

Summary

- From 16 Nov the emphasis shifts as the Sun enters Scorpio, moving to your 3rd house — initiative, siblings, short journeys, writing and negotiation. The second half of the month has a different character from the first.
- The running period is Jupiter/Mars/Venus. That is the backdrop for the whole year rather than for this month alone — it sets what kind of results are available, while the transits above decide when within the year they arrive.
- Rahu transits your 6th house from the Moon — a favourable position for it. Expect ambition, sudden openings and unconventional routes through employment, service, debt, health and competition.
