> The wearing of gems is an important consideration in Vedic astrology that can significantly influence many areas of life. The ancient Indian sages devoted considerable attention to the science of gems (Ratna Shastra) and their capacity to strengthen the beneficial rays of planetary energies. Each gem resonates with a specific planetary frequency and, when worn correctly, can strengthen the significations of its ruling planet in the native's life. The primary gem recommended below is determined by the lord of the ascendant — the most important planet in the horoscope — and its actual strength in the natal chart.

Description
According to the authorities, the Blue Sapphire (Neelam) strengthens Saturn's significations — bringing longevity, discipline, professional achievement, material stability and the destruction of poverty and misfortune when the planet is strong and well-disposed. The Blue Sapphire is considered the most powerful and fastest-acting of all planetary gems — it must be tested carefully before being worn permanently, as an incompatible Blue Sapphire can cause significant disruption. When worn by a person whose ascendant lord is Saturn and the gem is compatible, the Blue Sapphire directly strengthens the native's professional discipline, organizational capacity, longevity and the ability to achieve lasting success through sustained effort. Saturn governs longevity, career, discipline, chronic conditions, the nervous system, bones and all matters requiring long-term sustained effort — all of which benefit from the correctly tested Blue Sapphire. The gem should be tested for one week before wearing permanently. It should be set in iron or silver and worn on the middle finger of the right hand on a Saturday.

Strength analysis
The ascendant lord Saturn is placed in a neutral position in the birth chart. The gem recommendation provides steady support for the planet's natural significations. Wearing the primary gem will gradually strengthen the planet's positive contributions to health, personality and life circumstances over time. It is currently placed in the 12th house from the ascendant. The ascendant lord placed in the 12th house indicates that wearing the primary gem will most powerfully support spiritual development, foreign connections and the release of limiting patterns. The native will find their inner life and spiritual practice deepened.
